Short-Term

Paving Deal

Works Wonders

Congratulations are due Mayor Lyle Brown, the city council, the street department, and co-operating property owners, for that news report in yesterday's paper telling about the paving of 152 blocks of Hope's streets the last three years. Seventy blocks were paved this spring and summer alone. It is a magnificent advance for the community—for one of the basic factors by which a city is judged is the amount of its hard-surfaced streets, improving traffic conditions and reducing the dust nuisance for householders.

Two accomplishments are outstanding in this development. The first is the perfection of a cheap and durable blacktop dressing which requires only a freshly-graveled and graded base in order to convert a dirt street to a paved one. Most of Hope's non-paved streets were gravelled in recent years, so all that was required was some additional gravel and a resurfacing of the base to accept blacktop.

The second accomplishment was the financial program which the city arranged so that property owners could make this virtually a cash deal. Property owners gave notes over a five-year period, the city banked the notes and paid cash for the paving—and as the owners retire their individual notes the whole program liquidates itself.

This is a big advance over the old improvement district plan, involving attorneys, engineers, bond houses, and a 20-year debt extension.

The new blacktop is a light paving, of course, but it suits residential districts; and if heavy trucks are kept off it should last indefinitely.

Monday Death Toll Reaches 5 in State

By The Associated Press
Five persons died violently in Arkansas Monday—the beginning of a new seven-day period for counting fatalities.

A Winslow, Ark., man was shot to death near Fayetteville on highway 71 following an argument with another Winslow man.

Washington County Sheriff Bruce Crider identified the dead man as Bertie Barker, about 45. The sheriff said he had arrested Lemuel Madison France, 41, without charge for questioning.

Two persons were killed when the car in which they were riding struck a tree near Little Rock on Highway 167.

They were Harris Pruett of Port Arthur, Tex., and Mrs. Lobell Pruett Alston of DeWitt, La. Mrs. Alston's young daughter, about five, was hurt in the crash.

In Fort Smith, nine-year-old Linda Lou Lichty was killed when the car in which she was riding and another automobile collided at an intersection. The driver of the other car, Mrs. Jerry Griffith, was injured.

A young Prairie Grove man, hurt Sunday night in a traffic accident.

Two more deaths were added to last week's total. An automobile collision near Dumas, Ark., killed Mrs. Rowan Prewitt 36, of Tiller, Ark., and the Rev. Horace W. Calloway 50, of Watson, Ark., Sunday night.

Lions to Wear Western Clothes Until After Show

The Hope Lions club met Monday at Hotel Barlow with Lions Cline Frank and Bill Gentry presenting program, consisting of very interesting talk by Rev. W. P. Hardgrave on "Becoming more adequate."

Lion Wilson also read a proclamation by Mayor Lyle Brown setting aside the time from now until the livestock show as a time to wear western apparel. Any member of the Lions club not wearing western clothes will be fined in regular meeting.

The program next week will be in charge of Eddie Holland and Horace Hubbard. All members are urged to be present and bring a prospective new member.

Foundry to Rebuild Pattern Shop, Destroyed by Fire

Cox Brothers Machine shop is planning to rebuild its pattern shop which was destroyed by fire last weekend as soon as material is available, it was announced today.

The blaze Saturday destroyed patterns that had accumulated since 1926. There could be no way to estimate the loss, Mr. Cox said today. But it is in the thousands of dollars.

Temporarily the building across the street from the new shop will be used. When steel is available a new wing will be built on the regular building.

Truman Says U. S. Stronger Economically

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Washington, Sept. 11 — (AP) — President Truman said today the United States is stronger economically than ever before. He denounced as lies claims that the government is spending its way into bankruptcy.

He said those who are spreading the story of possible bankruptcy are doing it to "frighten voters—particularly as visions of elections dance through the heads of gentlemen who are politically inclined."

Mr. Truman spoke at the dedication of the new seven-story limestone and granite building for the general accounting office, watch-dog agency for congress on federal spending.

Using the bristling language of a political campaigner, the President charged that a great deal of "misinformation" is being circulated about government spending. Some of it, he said, is "done in ignorance and some with malice aforethought."

As an example, he said in an article in a widely circulated magazine used "meaningless butterfly statistics" — they seem to have been plucked right out of the air with a butterfly net in an attempt to show that waste and extravagance is running wild in the government.

He did not name the magazine. But a White House aide later said Mr. Truman referred to an article by Stanley High in the July issue of Readers Digest.

Nor did Mr. Truman name names in hitting at those he said have spread the story that this country is spending its way into national bankruptcy.

This has been a familiar Republican campaign cry, and has been voiced by some Dixie Democrats on the outs with the national administration. Among the latter are Senator Byrd of Virginia and Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur in his Cleveland speech last week said one of the "clearly defined" issues confronting the nation is whether "we are going to squander our limited resources to the point of our own inevitable exhaustion."

Of those he said have been talking of the threat of bankruptcy, Mr. Truman said:

"I want to say to these gentlemen who are spreading this story, 'don't be afraid.' This is something that has been worrying you for a number of years now. It's something you've been saying over and over again. It wasn't true when you began to say it, it has not been true as you have repeated it over and over since then, and now it's further from the truth than ever."

"The country is stronger economically than it has ever been before. Its people are more prosperous. After paying their taxes, the people have an average per capita income that will buy 40 percent more than it did in 1939, in spite of increases in prices. Corporations are making more money than they ever did and, after paying taxes at the new high rates, their profits are running at a higher rate than any year except the record-breaking 1950."

He sharply defended the federal budget against those who would cut it by $6,000,000,000 and declared the bulk of federal spending is for defense.

"We don't want to lose a horse through being too stingy to buy a strong enough rope to tie him with."

He said he was "proud" of the budgets he has submitted, but "I would not want anyone to give up his time honored right to complain about taxes."

"If people couldn't blow off steam that way sometimes, they might explode," Mr. Truman said. "Half of the fun of being a citizen in this country comes from complaining about the way we run our governments — federal, state and local."

The general accounting office building which Mr. Truman dedicated is the first major new government building in the capital since the war.

Hempstead School Districts Get Transportation Aid

The State Department of Education distributed $1,269,852 yesterday to various counties in aid to school districts. Hempstead county's share is $20,907 budget allotments and $7,091 for transportation.

Miss Lucille Ruggles, Hempstead treasurer, today released the amount of transportation aid by districts:

Blevins	$1,617
Guernsey	640
Hope	1,800
Palmas	503
Stratford	330
Spring Hill	675
Washington	550
Hempstead 3	978

Brannan Says Cities Resent Farm Policies

Washington, Sept. 11 — (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Brannan told a meeting of agricultural editors yesterday there is resentment in the cities against farm prices and policies.

Brannan said there is growing evidence city consumers feel farmers are interested only in policies which benefit the farmer and ignore the welfare of the city dweller.

He added that city folks believe farmers are " gouging " them on the price of farm products.

The nation's agricultural chief told the farm writers:

"The number of farmers is decreasing in proportion to the rest of the population. The farm population was proportionately greater when much of the agricultural program (price supports and farm aids) was passed. American agriculture can't just stand up and say 'this we want, and this we take.'"

The secretary's speech appeared to be another chapter in a long, and sometimes bitter feud between him and Allan E. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Kline opposes farm subsidies and price controls.

Agriculture may someday find itself unable to muscle political support, Brannan said, if "some of the spokesmen of agriculture carry on (as they are)." He cited a letter he said came from a representative of three big labor organizations, quoting farm organization leaders as opposed to federal projects for city housing, to price controls and to farm crop subsidies in the place of farm price supports.

Brannan said he believed farmers themselves, for the most part, took a more generous view of city folk's problems than do some farm spokesmen.

With only 49 of 3,910 precincts, the 200,000 military votes missing, the interior ministry said, the Papagos group had 34.9 per cent of the total vote for a tentative 116 seats.

Gen. Nicholas Plastiras' center Progressive Union party had 23.7 for a tentative 69 seats; and Venizelos jumped from 17 to 19.6 for 59 seats. The Communist-backed democratic front comes next with 11.2 per cent.

Under Greece's complicated proportional election system, Papagos can win parliament control by getting about 25 per cent of the total vote.

Papagos, who resigned as commander-in-chief in a dispute with King Paul, needs possibly 131 seats to win a parliament majority. The supreme court may have to decide whether the new parliament will have 480 or 550 members.

King Paul has expressed opposition to Papagos. Venizelos and Plastiras also have indicated they might join forces against the commander of government forces in the Communist rebellion. If Papagos barely falls short of a majority, his two opponents could join with the extreme left wing to hold the balance of power in parliament.

The votes of the armed forces—which could possibly decide the issue—may not be counted for a week to 10 days.

The accident proved fatal also to the Rev. Horace W. Calloway, 50, of Moscow, Ark., an occupant of the second car involved in the head-on crash.

Seriously injured was Mr. Prewitt, but their three children escaped with minor injuries.

Mrs. Prewitt, a native of Prescott, is also survived by four brothers, Tom, Doug, Harvey and Horace Berns, all of Prescott, two sisters, Mrs. William Johnson of Malvern and Mrs. Roger Smith of Magnolia.

The association head's speech came after delegates had stamped their approval on a resolution reducing annual leave for postal employees.

Donaldson, informed in Washington of Doherty's statements, commented:

"I do not care to get into a quarrel with a postal employee and I will refrain from doing it."

The state convention here ends today.

Various PTA organizations are preparing for the new school year and meetings are scheduled this week for the purpose of electing new officers and mapping programs.

Royalists Still Leading in Greece

Athens, Greece, Sept. 11 — (AP) — The Royalist Greek Rally Party of Field Marshal Alexander Papagos continued to lead today with just a few precincts and the military vote missing in Greece's parliament election.

But there was uncertainty whether the military hero would win majority control of parliament because of the late spurt by the third-place Liberal party of Sophocles Venizelos.

With only 49 of 3,910 precincts, the 200,000 military votes missing, the interior ministry said, the Papagos group had 34.9 per cent of the total vote for a tentative 116 seats.

Ministers to Meet, Map Out Future Action

Washington, Sept. 11 — (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman meet Secretary of State Acheson separately today with these problems in their little black bags:

What to do in Korea if cease-fire talks collapse for good (with a query from Acheson if the British, French and others can't contribute more troops?)

How to keep mounting world prices from stifling the West's arms buildup?

How to deal with anti-French independence movements in Morocco and Indochina (both strategic spots in the fight against Communism?)

Morrison was first to visit Acheson. It was his second day of official talks. Diplomats said he was prepared to tell Acheson swelling prices have made the arms budget crushing burden on Britain and other North Atlantic allies.

British Treasury Chief Hugh Patrick, who has been telling other U. S. officials the same story in economic conferences in recent days, was expected to be called in.

He has sought reassurances that Britain can get needed steel from the United States, estimated by British at some 800,000 tons in the next year.

What further economic measures are proposed has not been indicated, beyond some means of strengthening the effort already being made by the international materials conference to divide scarce raw materials among the principal western consumers without hoarding prices. Gaitskell has indicated Britain will not ask new American financial aid at this time. Some sort of international price stabilization appears to be the British aim.

What the United Nations Allies should do if full scale fighting starts up again in Korea was a stand-out question in a scheduled review of Far East problems. Acheson, officials said, was ready to ask for larger contributions by other U. N. Allies to halt any communist onslaught. During senate debate yesterday, U. S. forces in Korea were put at 443,000.

Mailmen Lash at Postal Dept. Head

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 11 — (AP) William C. Doherty of Cincinnati, Ohio, president of the national association of letter carriers, says the postmaster general is "from an administrative standpoint, the stupidest person God ever created."

Doherty lashed out at Jesse M. Donaldson at yesterday's session of the biennial convention of the New York state letter carriers association.

He charged that Donaldson had consistently blocked all legislation which would benefit letter carriers. He added:

"This is a man who has been receiving 20 days of annual leave ever since the Democrats took over. The same man who once took a $4,000 check from the U. S. treasury in lieu of the accumulated leave and who stated publicly that 15 days annual leave is enough for any man."

Doherty told the mail carriers they can expect a salary increase before the adjournment of the present congress. He said it would range between $320 and $400 annually and would be granted "in spite of, and not because of, the postmaster general."

The association head's speech came after delegates had stamped their approval on a resolution reducing annual leave for postal employees.

Donaldson, informed in Washington of Doherty's statements, commented:

"I do not care to get into a quarrel with a postal employee and I will refrain from doing it."

U. S. Sending More Ships to Italy

Rome, Sept. 11 — (AP) — The United States will complete delivery of eight more warships to Italy within the next three weeks.

These, with three already transferred, almost double the destroyer and destroyer escort strength of the Italian fleet.

The first two of the new ships—two of the fastest full-sized American destroyers—slipped quietly into La Spezia naval base near Genoa yesterday.

There was no ceremony. It will be held when the next six ships arrive by the end of the month. They will be the big fast-type support gunboats modified for Italian naval needs.

The two destroyers which arrived are the former Woodworth and the Nicholson, of the Benson class. The Italians already have pointed on their new names—the Artigliere and the Aviere.

Destroyer escorts already delivered are the Altair, Andromeda and Albatross—retained from American ships of the 1944 to 1946 class. They were handed over in ceremonies at the Taranto naval base last spring.

American officials here closely connected with the arms aid program say that even if the Italian peace treaty is modified, Italy will not be given any warships larger than the Woodworth and the Nicholson.

The peace treaty does not allow Italy aircraft carriers, submarines or assault torpedo boats.

She has two 1913 vintage battleships, the Doria and the Duilio which are badly seaworthy and three usable but not modern cruisers—the Giuseppe Garibaldi, the Duca degli Abruzzi, and the Montecuccoli.

Prior to the American ship transfers, Italy has three 15-ton destroyers, two 1100-ton destroyer escorts, seven 800-ton destroyer escorts and something over 20 corvettes and smaller patrol craft.

Senators Are Ready to Take a Rest

Washington, Sept. 11 — (AP) — Senators showed no enthusiasm today for a proposal that they hold a special session later this year to consider ratification of the Japanese peace treaty.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif., who flew back from the San Francisco conference yesterday, urged his colleagues to ratify the treaty promptly, either before they take a recess about Oct. 1 or at a special session in November or December.

Democratic Leader McFarland (Ariz.) told a reporter "somebody always can think of something to keep us here all the time." He added, however, that "when the treaty is reported by the foreign relations committee, I favor prompt action."

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations committee, which would do the preliminary work toward ratification, said he knew of no request for quick action or any reason for speed.

"I haven't sounded out the boys yet," he added, referring to government officials and senators who participated at the peace conference.

Senator George (D-Ga., a committee member, said he saw no reason why action could not be put off until congress returns in January for the new session. George said he would just as soon vote before the planned Oct. 1 adjournment but was opposed to any special session.

Senator Jenner (R-Ind., who has severely criticized the peace treaty, said he would oppose any special session to ratify it.

A special session might be called by the President, or it could be arranged by senate leaders of both parties. House action on the treaty is not required.

By The Associated Press
The tempo of the battle action has increased in Korea. There is savage fighting underway in eastern Korea where the Red Koreans have hurled repeated counter attacks against Allied-held hills. . . . But the enemy attacks have been repulsed.

Also in this area, counter-attacking Allied troops today forced Red troops off an important ridge and chased the enemy northward. And for the third straight day, Allied and Communist jet fighter planes tangled in action far behind the enemy lines.

Meanwhile, the Allied high command has admitted that one of our fliers accidentally strafed the Kaesong neutral zone yesterday. The command said the violation was the result of a pilot error in navigation. At the same time, the Reds have refused to accept General Ridgway's proposal that the suspended truce talks be resumed in a new location.

At least one rocket was identified definitely as being of the size used by the Red army against the Germans.

The missiles are erratic, but unswerving when fired in batteries. The Allies have used rockets frequently in the Korean war, primarily to blanket an area, which infantrymen are going to attack. Monday's jet air battle raged from altitudes of 40,000 feet down to free-top level.

The allied warplanes were led into battle by Col. Francis Gabreski, America's top ace.

"It was one of the most ferocious air battles I have ever seen," said Gabreski, a veteran of aerial warfare against the German Luftwaffe in World War II.

Other Fifth Air Force warplanes ranged through the clear Korean skies to pound Communist positions.

Dispute Halts Merger of Colleges

Little Rock, Sept. 11 — (AP) — Dispute over a site has halted, at least temporarily, the proposed merger of Arkansas' two Presbyterian colleges.

A joint committee of the Presbyterian synod of Arkansas (U. S. and the Arkansas Presbyterian of the Oklahoma synod (U. S. A.) announced in a statement early today after a 10-hour session.

The committee, appointed to work out the merger, met in almost constant session from 2:30 p. m. yesterday until about 12:45 this morning.

It recommended that the matter of a site be taken before a joint meeting of the two organizations in Fort Smith Nov. 1.

The U. S. group controls Arkansas college at Batesville, the U. S. A. organization operates the College of the Ozarks at Clarksville.

Dr. Marlon A. Boggs of Little Rock, chairman of the committee, said the group was in agreement on all points of the merger except the site.

The committee previously had recommended that (1) the colleges be merged; (2) that the new school be located at Batesville and (3) that it be called the College of the Ozarks.

Opposition to the location of the school at Batesville immediately developed. The board of trustees of Ozarks, which is in Clarksville, adopted a resolution opposing that provision.

Dr. Boggs said that it was the committee members representing the U. S. A. group that opposed the Batesville site.

Ford Falls in Line on Price Increase

Washington, Sept. 11 — (AP) — Ford and Chrysler both filed requests for increased prices yesterday with the office of price stabilization (OPS).

The office announced last Friday it would let auto makers raise new car prices by three to seven per cent, in view of increased production costs.

Ford's proposed increases were based on wholesale prices, to dealers. They were reported to be:

Fords — a 4.31 increase, ranging from $41.35 to $65.91.

Mercurys — 2.03 per cent, ranging from $40.45 to $92.32.

Lincoln Cosmo-politans — 2.50 per cent, ranging from $56.10 to $70.77.

Other Lincolns — 4.87 per cent, ranging from $60.57 to $75.00.

Chrysler based its price increase on retail prices at the factory. The company said its boats averaged 6.5 per cent. As announced, they included:

Chrysler Windsor — $150.

De Soto Custom — $147.

Dodge Coronet 4-door sedan — $117.

Plymouth Cranbrook 4-door sedan — $108.

General Motors is expected to file proposed new prices on its line soon.

The new prices go into effect five days after OPS approval.

More than 2,000,000 freight cars are used on the 235,000 miles of railroad lines in the United States.

School Funds Distributed

Little Rock, Sept. 11 — (AP) — Distribution of $1,872,348 in state aid to local school districts has been authorized by the Arkansas board of education.

The board allocated the money yesterday. It represents $1,200,052 in minimum school budget aid; $377,496 in transportation aid; and $225,000 in state apportionment. It was the first distribution of the 1951-1952 school year.

Requests from districts to issue a total of $1,250,244 in commercial bonds and borrow $100,000 from the state revolving loan fund also were approved by the board.

The county-by-county breakdown with minimum budget allocations listed first and transportation aid amounts in parentheses:

Economic Group Plans Tour

C. Hamilton Moses, president of the council-chamber, will speak at breakfast, luncheon or dinner meetings.

This House Moving Is a Real Job

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 11 — (AP) — A two-family house, tediously moved three blocks in nine hours, wound up parked in the middle of a city street because it couldn't get across a lawn to its new foundation.

The house was moved Sunday by a special tractor hauling it on two 12-wheel dollies. Three trees were chopped down and a traffic light and police call-box were removed as workers inched the 80-ton building to its new site.

Then came the hitch. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Citron, who own the property across which the house must pass, decided yesterday that they would not allow the house to be moved across their lot and until they had received full payment of the $500 promised by the owner of the house.

They said Anthony T. Flerty had paid them $50 but they wanted a balance before the house crossed their land in case of damage to their lawn and underground pipes.

Flerty then decided maybe he didn't want to pay his new neighbors the balance until the house was settled on its new base. The movers sat around for a decision. None came. The house was left in the five-block long street and all traffic had to be rerouted.

While Flerty and his would-be neighbors talked the matter over and motorists took the long way home, City Forester Arthur F. Kramer stepped into the picture.

He ruled that three more trees that would have to be chopped to let the house across the Citron property could not be cut.

Announcing the 1951-52 Essay Contests of THE LION OIL COMPANY which will award COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS to Students...to Teachers, too!

Lion Oil Company has expanded the Lion Oil Scholarship Fund to provide scholarships for teachers as well as students, because we believe that the future progress of the South depends not only on educational advancement of Southern Youth—our Future Leaders, but also on the continuing advancement of Southern teachers who guide our Southern boys and girls.

SCOPE OF STUDENT-ESSAY CONTESTS BROADENED Larger Number of Prizes in Each Contest.

FOUR $1,000 SCHOLARSHIPS ONE $3,000 SCHOLARSHIP

For the second consecutive year, Lion Oil Company will award scholarships and cash as prizes in a series of essay contests. The series will consist of four contests, open to high school students in any public, private or parochial school in areas where Lion petroleum products are sold at the sign of the Lion.

First-place winner in each of the four contests wins a one-year scholarship (cash value $1,000) to any accredited college or university of his or her choice. The scholarships are unusual in that they are sufficient to cover not only tuition, but also such incidental expenses as laboratory fees, books, room and board.

When a student wins one of the four essay contests, he or she automatically becomes eligible for the Grand Prize, a 3-year scholarship (cash value $3,000). Thus, the student who wins the Grand Prize wins scholarships for four years of college...total value $4,000.

MORE PRIZES

The number of additional prizes in each contest has been increased. Prizes will be awarded as follows:

2nd prize	$250
3rd prize	$100
Next 22 prizes, each	$25

EASY TO ENTER

To enter, a high school student must write an essay in 500 words or less, get the essay approved and signed by his teacher, and send it to:

LION OIL SCHOLARSHIP FUND
El Dorado, Arkansas

FIRST CONTEST STARTS NOW

The subject for the first contest is:

"What I Want from Education"

Entries must be postmarked before midnight, Oct. 15th. Subjects for the other essay contests will be announced at a later date and are listed in Rules Booklets.

TEACHERS WIN, TOO

The teacher sponsoring a first-place winner in any contest receives $200 cash; second-place $100; third-place $50; next 22 winners $25 each. An additional $300 in cash will be awarded to the teacher sponsoring the Grand Prize winner.

JUDGING

Essays will be judged for:

- (1) Interest and originality
- (2) Excellence and clarity of presentation
- (3) Neatness

Judges will be educational leaders selected from various Southern universities and colleges.

High School Students...Don't Miss this Opportunity to Attend the College of Your Choice on a Lion Oil Scholarship

Ask your teacher or principal for free rules booklet, or write the Lion Oil Scholarship Fund.

NEW ESSAY CONTESTS for High School Teachers

SIX $1,200 SCHOLARSHIPS

Now...Lion Oil offers Southern high school teachers the opportunity to win scholarships for advanced education. Lion Oil Company will conduct two essay contests for Southern high school teachers. Three winners will be selected in each contest. The three winners in each contest will each receive a $1,200 scholarship to the college or university of his or her choice. Teachers, principals and superintendents teaching in public, private and parochial high schools in areas where Lion petroleum products are sold at the sign of the Lion are eligible to enter these contests.

The first contest is now open. To enter, a teacher should write an essay in 1,500 words or less on the following subject:

"How I Can Help Improve Education in the South"

Entries in this first contest must be postmarked before midnight of December 15th.

For complete information on these contests, write the Lion Oil Scholarship Fund.

LION OIL... "HOME FOLKS"

This is Lion Oil Company's way of saying, "We believe in the South...are eager to assist its sons and daughters...our good neighbors."

Lion Oil is part-and-parcel of the South, employing more than 2,400 persons with an annual payroll of more than $11,000,000.

Lion Oil manufactures more than fifty petroleum products which keep the wheels of Southern industry, transportation and agriculture spinning. Lion's nitrogen fertilizers enrich the soil of Southern farms, help Southern farmers produce more and better crops.

That's why we're proud to say we're "Home Folks!"

Convict to Be Tried for Rape

Malvern, Sept. 10 —(AP)—Trial of Frank Reynolds, 42-year-old ex-convict on a charge of rape is to begin in Hot Springs county circuit court here Sept. 20.

The date was set today by Circuit Judge Ernest Maner.

Reynolds is accused of raping a 10-year-old girl near Malvern late in August. He was captured while picking cotton in a field near Dumas Sept. 8.

"before this coming winter," the army chief of staff said today.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins made the statement in a letter to Senator Dworshak (R-Idaho), who had protested against army plans to use Idaho national guardsmen as combat replacements.

Collins said "there is no satisfactory alternative," but to depend upon guardsmen now in federal service to help meet "a pressing manpower problem."

Collins added: "The overriding need is the requirement for rotation of men from overseas, including the rotation before this coming winter of all personnel who endured the bitter combat conditions in Korea last winter."

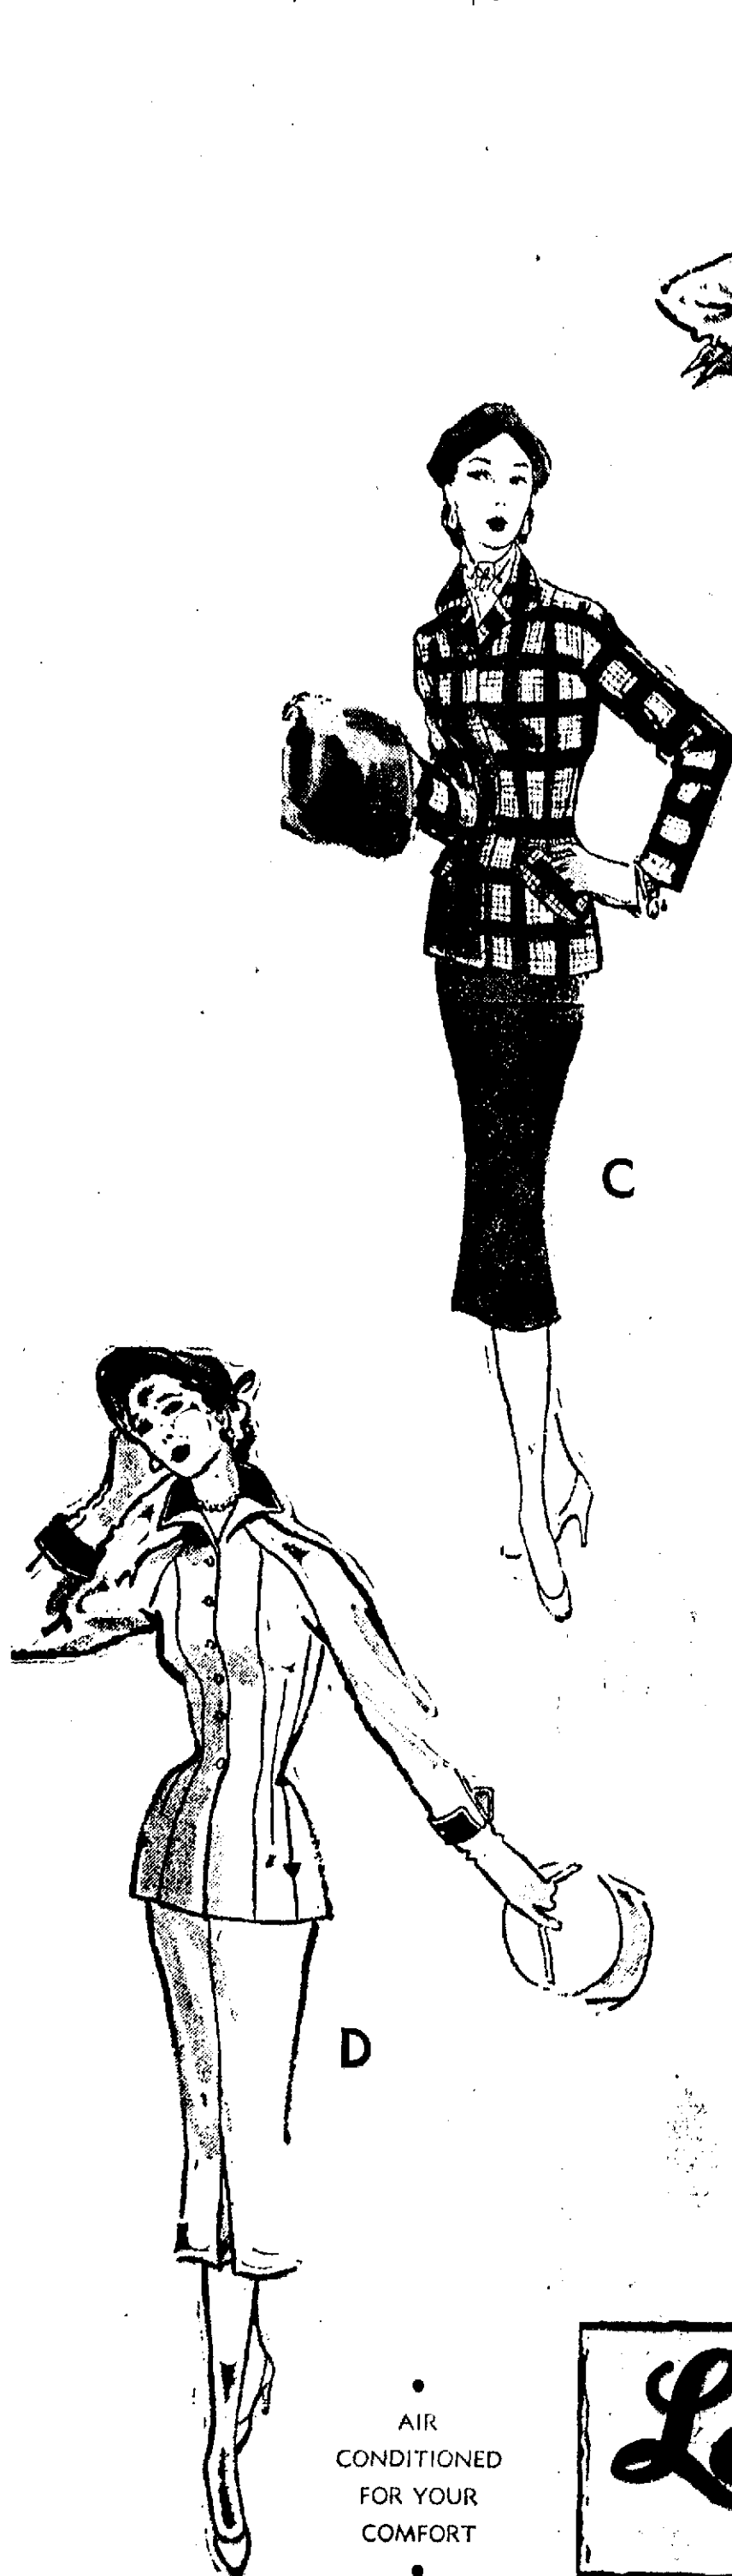

"This situation alone is currently requiring replacement of some 30,000 men and officers each month."

American Loop 3-Way Battle Resumes Today

By RALPH RODEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
The New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox resume their three-cornered battle for the American League pennant today after a weekend one-day respite.

Cleveland, trailing the pennant-winning Yankees by four percentage points, had the toughest road to travel. The Indians open their inland eastern swing of the year in Philadelphia with a tonight double header with the pesty Athletics.

Including the tonight with the A's, the Indians are charged to play 13 games on the road before returning home for two single games against Detroit on the last two days of the season. Then Manager Al Lopez' Tribe is confronted with the difficult task of winning the pennant on the road, a feat seldom accomplished.

Meanwhile the Yankees, who play 16 of their remaining 19 games at Yankee stadium enter the last place St. Louis Browns in a double header.

The only cloud in the Yankee picture is that the bombers are booked to play the third-place Red Sox eight games during the last ten days of the season. If the Indians enjoy a successful tour, they could slip home first while the Red Sox and Yankees are at each other's throats. The Red Sox 5-1-2 games behind, and the fifth place Detroit Tigers in the two while the one-two teams are engaged in twin bills.

Bob Feller (22-7) and Mike Gabra (16-11) are scheduled to go for Cleveland against the A's Philadelphia is counting with lefties Alex Kellner (10-14) and Sam Aldak (5-9).

The A's, fresh from a double victory over Boston Sunday, have forced both the Yankees and Indians of late. They knocked the Yankees off the top perch three times in 23 days and recently took two out of three from the Indians in Cleveland.

New York has feated on the Browns all season, winning 17 out of 20 games. The Browns are about 14 games behind the Yankees.
Tommy Byrne (4-10) against the Yankees.

The Yankees and Indians clash in a two game series at the stadium beginning Sunday. After the big series the Indians invade Boston for a pair of games and then head west.

Brooks left-hander Leo Kiley (3-4) will attempt to pitch the Red Sox back into the thick of the fight against Detroit. The Tigers have hounded Kiley since (3-3) to face the Sox. Stuart has lost five straight.

Meanwhile, the Brooklyn Dodgers resume their drive for the National League pennant by engaging the Reds in a night game at Cincinnati. The Dodgers are 3-1-2 games ahead of the runner-up New York Giants. The Giants take on the red hot Cardinals in a twin-night twin bill at St. Louis. The Cardinals have won 13 out of their last 14 starts.

The Dodgers are expected to call up Catcher Bob Huggan, manager of their Fort Worth Texas league farm, to help out until Ray Campbell returns to duty. Campbell is on the sidelines with a bruised right hip. Al Walker is the Dodgers' second string catcher.

Farm Escapees
Recaptured

Little Rock, Sept. 10 (AP)—Two Pulaski county farm inmates were captured near here today about 10 hours after they had escaped from the penal institution.

Farm Assistant Sup. J. H. Smith said he picked up the two, Olen Sybert, 29, Dallas, Texas, and Calvin Hutchinson, Little Rock, on the Rock Island railroad track 12 miles north of the farm.

Sybert said the men offered no resistance.

Sybert and Hutchinson walked away from the farm, about 12 miles northwest of here, yesterday afternoon. They were hauling sorghum at the time.

Sybert was serving out a $33.80 fine and a sentence of 264 days for being drunk, disturbing the peace and threatening to destroy public property.

Hutchinson was sentenced to

DeQueen Team Again Loaded, Experienced

By The Associated Press

The battle for cash and a spot in the Dixie series begins in the Southern Association Tuesday night, with Champion Little Rock host to Memphis and Mobile invading Birmingham for the initial tilt of the Shaugnessy playoffs.

To the winner goes $3,000 and the chance to pick up some more money in the series with the winner of the Texas league playoff.
The second place team picks up $1,500.

The best of seven series will be played on a two-three-two game basis. The sites shift to Memphis and Mobile after an off day Thursday and back to Little Rock and Birmingham if the sixth and seventh games are needed.

The Little Rock Travelers, who last year at this time were buried in the cellar, finished the regular season with a 10-1-2 lead on second place Birmingham. Manager Gene DeSauteles has named Verne Williamson (12-5) as the starting pitcher against the Chicks.

Luke Appling, Memphis manager, has Chicago White Sox castoff Marvin Rothblatt (6-2) ready to face the champs.

Manager Red Marion of the Birmingham Barons has named left-hander Mikes Haeftner (10-7) to face the Bears in the series opener.
Paul Chewenko is hoping his third place Barons will be able to snap out of a batting slump which caused them to lose six of the last seven games. He's named his ace right-hander Glenn Cox (14-9) to take the mound against the Barons.

Simultaneously, the Texas league
by San Antonio, Dallas and Beaumont in that order.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 11 (AP)— Arthur Oils a grifter from Birmingham Mich., started out in the National amateur yesterday with a series of charts showing each hole in the difficult Saxon Valley course and how to play it. He consulted the chart each time before he drove off the tee. . . . The stunt must have worked since Oils won his first match from William Hyndman, but it reminded Joe Day the USGA secretary, of a guy with a more remarkable set of information. At Oakmont in 1933, Joe observed a golfer who opened up a folded paper on each tee, studied it and stuck it in his pocket. . . .
Closer inspection revealed it was the description of the course printed in the tournament program.
. . . Wonder if he read the ads to show "what club to use?" . . . Frank Stranahan was feeling pretty good about his first round defeat yesterday when someone told him of the death of Mrs. Julius Borah, the former Buttons Congresswoman.
It was a shock to everyone who heard and Frank soberly reflected: "After that I began to put things in their proper perspective." Losing didn't seem too serious.

A Perfect Subject

Up at Grossinger, N. Y., last week, Dick Turpin slipped away from brother Randy's training quarters to see a hypnotist put on a show for the hotel guests. . . .
Sitting at a table Dick went through all the motions demanded of the subjects who were to be hypnotized. . . . Manager George Middleton, watching him, recalled a time when Dick had offered himself as a subject just after he had won the British middleweight title.

After getting the situation under control, the hypnotist said:
"Now, Dick show us what punch you used to win the championship."
Dick hauled off and put the Svengali to sleep with a right to the jaw.

Republican to Seek Election in Texas

Wichita Falls, Tex., Sept. 10. —(AP)—Texas' newest congressman, Frank Ikerd of Wichita Falls, says he will seek reelection next year to the seat he won in a special election.

The district court judge plans to go to Washington this week to succeed Ed Consett, Wichita Falls, who resigned the 13th district post to take a job as attorney for Southwestern Bell Telephone company.

Ikerd won out in an eight-way race by polling 8,874 votes Saturday. Walter Jenkins of Wichita Falls was second with 5,164 and Republican Joe Jackson was third with 5,012.

An unofficial 20,100 votes were cast.

Eugene Shorrod, Jr., Wichita Falls county Democratic chairman, said Ikerd's victory was nationally significant.

"Other than his party affiliation and policies we could find no fault with the Republican candidate," said Shorrod. "Under the circumstances x x x, the chances were not those of personalities but instead party policies. From a national party standpoint this victory therefore becomes highly significant."

Blazing Plane Lands Safely, Nobody Hurt

South Weymouth, Mass., Sept. 10. —(AP)—With one of its two engines blaring a Northeast airlines plane bumped down a short runway on an emergency belly landing yesterday and 10 passengers and a crew of three escaped with a shaking.

Heroine of the crash landing of a Boston to Nantucket DC3 was Stewardess Ruth Jenkins 21, who telephoned her parents in Gray, Me., later on to say: "I didn't have time to be nervous."

A Northeast spokesman in New York credited Miss Jenkins with "marvelous work" in leading the passengers to safety after the plane slid along a runway which wasn't long enough to give proper landing space for the airliner.

Sharing honors was the pilot, Capt. Wallace C. Robbins, of New York who nudged the big plane in to a soft stop in a bog. The engine blaze was quickly extinguished by naval crash crews.

The plane set down on a short strip at a naval field here which was formerly a dirigible base and is now being converted for jet operations.

Russia Sends Rockets to the Chinese

U. S. Eight Army Headquarters Korea, Sept. 10. —(AP)—Rockets of the type used by the Russians in World War II have landed behind Allied lines of the east central front, it was officially reported today.

There was speculation they might have been brought to Korea by communist caucasian troops recently reported near the battlefronts.

No Allied installations were hit. Official sources refused to disclose the number of rockets that landed. In the air war, 30 American F-80 Sabre Jets tangled with 50 Russian type MIG-15s over northwest Korea in one of history's biggest jet battles. Two communist planes were damaged.

It was the second jet battle in two days. Sunday the Allies shot down two MIGs and damaged another. There were no allied losses in either scrap.

Army sources said unofficially tonight they have reliable but not conclusive evidence that Russian pilots have been flying some of the MIGs in battles against the United Nations.

Since rocket, to be effective, must blanket an area, it is possible those which landed on the east central front were fired accidentally. They apparently were not aimed at any specific target. Reports indicated only a small number were fired.

Eight army officers refused to say whether they could have been launched from a communist plane.

Senate May Pass Military Measure

Washington, Sept. 10. —(AP)—A bill to raise the military budget to $10,100,000,000 for 1952, which passed the House last week, is expected to pass the Senate today.

The bill, which was introduced by Sen. Charles McNary, R-Ind., and passed by a vote of 75-15, is the first of a series of bills to increase the military budget.

Especially, the bill carries money for planes, and it included a directive to build up the air force as rapidly as possible to a strength of 95 wings.

The Senate appropriations committee which approved the bill, measure Friday added—over and above the amounts which President Truman sought and which the House voted—a special fund of $5,000,000,000 for navy and air force aviation.

Also in the measure is an unspecified amount to be spent on new weapons called "fantastic" and which various senators have termed "stupendous," "startling," "amazing" and "beyond imagination."

The nature of these weapons is a carefully guarded secret, but senators have said they are not atomic and are not guided missiles.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) floor manager for the big money bill, said the "red issue" is an expansion of U.S. air power until this country can defend that Soviet Russia decided between real peace and war.

Senator Maybank (D-SC), a member of the appropriations subcommittee which handled the bill, put it this way: "There is no use to speed up development of such things as atomic weapons and not at the same time develop an air force to carry the m. That would be like having a wagon without a horse."

In addition to the $5,000,000,000 for added air power not yet spelled out and some small amount for special projects, the bill breaks down this way:

For the army: $20,023,229,594.

For the navy: $15,533,862,225.

For the air force: $20,011,355,000.

As the bill passed the house, it carried a total of about $56,000,000,000. Senate approval anticipated with few changes, would send it to a Senate conference to resolve the differences.

Senators said approval of the big new money bill which provides funds for the armed forces in the fiscal year which started July 1, will make available more than $100,000,000,000 (100 billion). The defense department reported that it still has $1,624,000,000 voted previously but not yet spent.

While there appeared to be no obstacles in the way of the defense money bill prospects for an Oct. 1 adjournment of Congress appeared to be fading.

For on thing, chairman George (D-Ga.) told newsmen he doubts the Senate finance committee will have ready for debate before next week its version of new tax legislation. The house has voted a tax take of about $720,000,000. The Senate group has trimmed it down below $6,000,000,000.

Senate debate on that bill promises to be fairly lengthy followed by a conference with the house.

House members return from a three-week vacation on Wednesday, but no legislation has been scheduled for this week. The next major bills facing it are two more big money bills: One of about $7,000,000,000 for foreign aid and $5,750,000,000 for military construction.

House members return from a three-week vacation on Wednesday, but no legislation has been scheduled for this week. The next major bills facing it are two more big money bills: One of about $7,000,000,000 for foreign aid and $5,750,000,000 for military construction.

Senate debate on that bill promises to be fairly lengthy followed by a conference with the house.

DOROTHY DIX Adultery Is Poor Revenge

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband goes out alone almost every night in the week. I'm on the verge of starting an affair with another man—a man who can give me the love and affection I long for. Can you give me just one reason why I shouldn't do it? I can't find any!

NORA

Answer: Yes, I can give you one very excellent reason for not engaging in this affair. It is contained in the words of the commandment: "Thou shalt not commit adultery." This and other Commandments of God have for thousands of years, they are not yet outmoded, in spite of the teachings of so-called modern thinkers. Adherence to them makes self-respect—the greatest factor in decent living—as well as the respect of others; it makes one's conscience something to live with instead of escaping from by any means at hand.

Have You Failed Him?

Your marriage is a failure. How much of its failure is your responsibility? Your husband is neglectful. Have you made an effort to provide him with a home to enjoy? Have you given him cheerful companionship, or is he nagged to death when he does enter the house?

If you were willing to contribute to the making of a home half the effort you are anxious to expend in an extra-marital love affair, your wandering husband would be well established at the family hearth.

You long for love and affection, but has it ever occurred to you that these gifts do not come unearned? They must be returned in kind. Even your lover will soon tire of your selfish demands and then you will need other diversion. Before you wander too far, down this fruitless road, take stock of yourself. See where you have failed your husband and make an honest attempt to establish your marriage firmly and securely.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband and I were married over a year ago. We are keeping our marriage a secret until he gets settled—he is in the service. My problem is that there were no witnesses to the ceremony, which was performed by a justice of the peace. Every thing seemed to be in order but I have been thinking about it and I am worried. Would the lack of witnesses cause our marriage not to be legal?

G. G.

Answer: First of all, you have done a very foolish thing in contracting a secret marriage. It is unfair to your parents and your husband's. It is also unfair to yourself as you will realize later in life. The glamour and importance of a wedding—no matter how simple—is something every girl should have. The wedding goes to show your children, the pictures to look at pridefully, are not things to be lightly cast off. There is a vast difference between a sneaky ceremony performed by a total stranger, and a pretty church or home wedding at which your family, clergyman officiates, and to which friends and relatives come to wish you well.

The legality of your marriage should not be difficult to determine. As laws regarding matrimony differ in each state, I cannot tell whether witnesses are required in yours or not. If you have a certificate signed by the justice who married you, take it to a lawyer for his opinion. This may involve a little trouble and money, but I should think it would be worth it.

Answer: There is absolutely nothing wrong, or even questionable, in your husband's driving these girls to their luncheon place, or home. A camaraderie arises among people who work in the same office and friendly gestures such as offering a ride are taken for granted. In fact, your husband would be rather thoughtless if he were driving his car home and did not offer the convenience of a ride to such co-workers as happened to live along his route, or near it.

Thinks Ike May Be Persuaded

Washington, Sept. 10. —(AP)—Roy A. Roberts, president of the Kansas City Star, thinks Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower might be persuaded to run for the presidency in 1951 and he doubts that President Truman will run again.

Roberts expressed these views yesterday in a radio discussion (NBC in which he also came up with an answer for the question: Is Eisenhower a Republican or a Democrat?

He's "a good Kansas Republican, like all his forbears," Roberts said. His authority for that, he explained, was Eisenhower himself — "He told me so."

Roberts emphasized that he was not speaking for the general, nor for Mr. Truman, when he said Eisenhower would accept "an honest to goodness draft for the presidency" and that he doesn't believe the President "is a cinch to run" for reelection.

Discussing the 1952 presidential possibilities with Roberts was Jonathan Daniels, editor of the Raleigh (N.C.) News and Observer.

WAREHOUSE
YOUR COTTON FOR GOVERNMENT LOANS

The first step in obtaining government loan is to place your cotton in an approved warehouse. You will receive a negotiable warehouse receipt for each bale. Your warehouse will furnish correct weights, pull samples for classing, and certify same papers required by the government for completing your loan.

Cotton farmers who placed 3,000,000 bales in the 1948 loan, realized an extra profit of $17.50 per bale. Only through a time tested and proved efficient system of warehousing and marketing could these millions of bales have been stored, protected and preserved to bring cotton growers the most profitable market for you.

Take care of your crop from bale to bale, and you can depend on your warehouse to take care of your cotton from bale to spindle and to the most profitable market for you.
